DETAILED ACTION

Application Status

1. By virtue of a preliminary amendment filed on 4/14/2005, claims 1-19 have been canceled; and claims 20-36 have been added. Thus, claims 20-36 are pending in the instant case.

Restriction

2. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions, which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

- I. Claims 20-25, drawn to a crystal of RAD51-BRC repeat sequence complex.
- II. Claims 26, drawn to a nucleic acid encoding the RAD51-BRC repeat sequence chimera protein.
- III. Claims 27--28, drawn to a mutant RAD51.
- IV. Claims 29, drawn to a nucleic acid encoding the mutant RAD51.
- V. Claim 30, drawn to a method of homology modelling.
- VI. Claims 31-32, drawn to a method for determining the structure of a protein.

Art Unit: 1656

- VII. Claims 33-34, drawn to a method for the analysis of the interaction of a molecular structure of RAD51 or BRC repeat sequence.
- VIII. Claim 35, drawn to a method of determining the biological activity of compound.
- IX. Claim 36, drawn to a compound identified by a computer simulation.

The inventions listed as Groups I-VIII do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

The invention of Group I, a first product, requires as its special technical feature, that is a crystal of RAD51-BRC repeat sequence complex. This special technical feature is not required by Group II-VIII. The invention of Group II and IV is a nucleic acid, which is distinct from amino acids in Group I. Group III is a mutant RAD51, which has different amino acid composition compared to the protein of Group I. The method of Groups V-VIII do not requires a crystal of RAD51-BRC repeat sequence complex. The compound of Group IX is a molecules whereas the Group I is comprised of amino acid sequences. Therefore, Group II-IX do not share the special technical feature of a crystal of RAD51-BRC repeat sequence complex, thus do not relate to a single general inventive concept.

Election

3. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Notice of Possible Rejoinder

4. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder.

Art Unit: 1656

All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.

Art Unit: 1656
